Ask participants to select one of the quotes below that “speaks ” to them about the content of this module. Then ask them to tell the other participants which quote you chose and why in one minute or less. Who chose the same quote?

1. Good governance has 8 major characteristics. It is participatory, consensus oriented, accountable, transparent, responsive, effective and efficient, equitable and inclusive and follows the rule of law. It assures that corruption is minimized, the views of minorities are taken into account and that the voices of the most vulnerable in society are heard in decision-making. It is also responsive to the present and future needs of society.
United Nations Social and Economic Commission for Asia and the Pacific
2. Coming together is a beginning. Keeping together is progress. Working together is success.
Henry Ford
3. We need partners to exercise leadership, to compensate for our blind spots, to act as a sounding board.
Ronald Heifetz, Director, Leadership Education Project, Harvard University
4. A politician would do well to remember that he has to live with his conscience longer than he does with his constituents.
Melvin R. Laird, 20th-century American Secretary of Defense
5. The Servant-Leader is servant first. It begins with the natural feeling that one wants to serve, to serve first. Then conscious choice brings one to aspire to lead...The best test is: Do those served grow as persons? So they, while being served, become healthier, wiser, freer, more autonomous, more likely themselves to become servants? And what is the effect on the least privileged in society; will they benefit or, at least, not be further deprived?
Robert Greenleaf, Founder, Centre for Servant-Leadership
6. I don't like people who are in politics for themselves and not for others.
You want that, you can go into show business.
Elvis Presley
7. Definition of Insanity: Doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results.
